DEMOCRATIC LEADERS.

Considerable has been said about the "reorganization" of the Democratic party. Among the most forward and efficient in their suggestions are those who have the least right to recognition in Democratic councils. It is perhaps well to give these obtrusive individuals distinctly to understand the Democratic party will entrust the management of its affairs to none but those who have remained loyal to it, and who, in the last campaign, did not give aid and comfort to its enemy. Out of the nearly seven millions of men who voted for Bryan in 1900 there ought to be no lack of material for leadership, or necessity for turning the searchlight upon the line of apostates who during the campaign gloried in the anticipation of Democratic disaster and defeat. It is not among this traitorous element that loyal Democrats will look for a Moses to guide them to the promised land of Democratic predominance and success.

These leaders under fire do not propose to return with the meekness of the meek, but with a flourish of trumpets and in the role of dictators, lending the procession, dictating its line of march and the step of the millions of battle-scarred veterans, who are expected to tread meekly and submissively behind them. This is the program annexed by the doughty camp followers and quack-alikes of the Republican party in the campaigns of 1866 and 1880.

The talk in disfavor of Bryan is distasteful to and provokes the indignation of the millions of honest Democrats and Silver men who supported him in the last campaign. The talk of "shelving" him is untimely and unbecoming. Say what you will no candidate could have been nominated who would have polled as many votes as he. It is easy enough to carp and criticize, but as a matter of fact, no candidate running upon any platform, however strong and unassailable, could have defeated Mr. McKinley under the circumstances attending the last campaign. Everything conspired to render him invincible, and his election was a certainty. Mr. Bryan was defeated, but his successful campaign will live in history as does that of Abraham Lincoln in his Senatorial contest with Stephen A. Douglas in 1858.

It is not probable that Mr. Bryan will ever again aspire to the nomination for the Presidency, but that is not a question to be discussed at the present time. It is certain that he is near to the hearts of more of the American people than any public man now living, and a thousand times nearer the Democratic heart than any or all of the traitors who criticize him, and who propose to retire him from the field of Democratic politics for all time to come. Whether as candidate or private citizen, the party could better dispense with the services of the entire gag of bolters than with those of the defeated candidate of 1896 and 1900.

The talk of "reorganizing" the Democratic party is futile and senseless. It has never been disorganized from the day of its birth to the present time. It has suffered defeat, but was never routed. It is the only party in the political history of the country that has survived two consecutive national defeats. It has survived six, and will outlive its present opponent, and probably dozens of its successors.

Progress of events, experience and new issues from time to time suggest changes, but necessity for reorganization has never occurred. In age it is scarcely the junior of the constitution itself, and its end—if it ever comes—will be contemporaneous with that of the republic.

We have stated perhaps a bit more plainly than politely who should not dictate or control the future policy of the party. Tomorrow, perhaps, we will take a look at the other side of the medal, and present our views as to what concessions, if any, principle and policy would dictate, who should make them, and to whom they should be made.

NO REDRESS FOR EITHER.

A Supreme Court Judge in Chicago has lately rendered a most interesting and important decision to the effect that it is not unlawful for employers to make and keep an agreement not to employ certain persons, and likewise for employees to combine and refuse employment for a certain employer. This, in other words, decides that the blacklist is not illegal, nor is the boycott, strikes nor other combinations against employers. The suit was brought by eight girls employed in a beef packing establishment who went on a strike because of a cut in their wages. Their striking did no effect: their purpose, and not only that, other employers united with their former employers in agreeing not to hire them. Because of this discrimination the girls brought suit for damages.

The opinion emphasizes the right of the employer to enter into agreements with fellow workmen, but lays particular stress upon the similar rights of the employers, regarding the motive. While the decision is a technical victory for the employers, who were the defendants, it might seem on the face of it to be equally favorable to the efforts of organized labor in questions of a right to boycott, strike or enforce organized demands.

While this seems fair enough—which, perhaps, it is—a cold legal sense—it is questionable whether the employed will derive any benefit from that part of the decree supposedly favorable to them. The conditions of the employer and employed are entirely different, and their several powers as unequal as any two things could reasonably be. The employed at the best, or worst, could only cause employers temporary annoyance and inconvenience, while the latter, by the exercise of their power, can arbitrarily wrest from those in disfavor their means of livelihood, bring them face to face with—if not actually into the jaws of—starvation, and subordinate them as does the tamer of wild beasts his animals—by withholding their food until their spirits are sufficiently subdued to render them submissive and obedient to his commands.

This decision is somewhat similar to one rendered in the early days of California in a slave case, in which it was remarked by a witty Sacramento lawyer, "The North got the law, but the South got the nigger." In the Chicago case the employer gets his portion of the law, which is practically useless to him, while the black-lister is legally authorized to persecute the recalcitrant employee, possessing as he does ample power to avail himself of his portion of the decision. As a matter of fact, our federal and State laws do not sufficiently define the relative rights of capital and labor, and until proper legislation is effected there will be endless clash and antagonism between the employer and employed. It is the most important question of the times, especially in the United States, and one which requires a large amount of practical sense and comprehension to satisfactorily solve.

It is claimed that there were more people at Carson on the Fourth than at the big prizefight. As a friend remarked: "This shows that patriotism has a stronger hold on the people of Nevada than pugilism." He might have emphasized his remark by the fact that the attendance on Thursday was composed exclusively of Nevadans, while that at the pugilistic carnival was made up principally by not the best element from all parts of the United States.

The Elko Independent greets the Journal's new management with kindly words of compliment and cheer. As to the Independent's prediction concerning a matter alluded to in our salutatory, we assure Bro. Bohrer that it isn't causing a particle of worryment nor a moment's loss of sleep by anyone around the Journal office. As somebody once remarked: "Let the slanders take comfort. It is only at fruit trees that thieves throw stones."

Should the constitution follow the flag? Decidedly no. It should accompany the flag wherever the latter is unfurled over American possessions. In the language of the immortal Webster (Daniel, not the Judge), slightly paraphrased: "The constitution and the flag, now and forever, one and inseparable."

If a politician should distribute $10,000 in any section of the United States in order to secure their support for his proposals, if the law was enforced, he would be promptly arrested and jailed. General Babes gave that amount to the people of Santa for their consent to support the American government.

"Bah for the Reno Wheelmen!" They have twice bested the supposed invincible team of California's capital. If they succeed in downing the San Jose crackerjack combination, like Alexander, they will be left because there are no other worlds to conquer.

The American governor of Guam has organized a navy. He has notified the navy department at Washington that he has enlisted seven natives of the island on half pay to act as oarsmen of his official launch.

Judicial positions are generally regarded so desirable that it is not surprising that the Philippine commission has decided that no Filipino is competent to fill any of them on that archipelago.

China is practically saying to the powers, as cheerfully as you please: If you will furnish the money I will readily pay you that indemnity.

Strikers Deliver Their Ultimatum.

TELLURIDE, Col., July 6.—The strikers have delivered their ultimatum to the owners of the Union mine, demanding $3 a day and no discrimination. The proposition was declined, and further trouble may result.

Young Murderer Kills Himself.

ALBANY, July 6.—Raymond Albers, a twelve-year-old boy, shot and killed Emanuel Koehler yesterday afternoon, and then hanged himself.

A Rate War Is Threatened.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The Santa Fe road yesterday withdrew from the freight pool and cut rates. The threatened war is likely to involve twenty-seven lines.

SAGEBRUSH OCCURRENCES

Happenings in this State Cleaned From our Nevada Exchanges.

There is talk of banishing John Chalmers from Tonopah. He is getting too numerous here.

Mrs. Gus Vogel died at Wells yesterday morning after a lingering illness. She was the daughter of the late James McMullen. A widowed husband and a child about 8 months old survive her. Rev. B. J. Darnell went to Deeth this morning to conduct the funeral services.—Independent.

Telegraph offices are being put in at Moleen and Gerald, near Carlin, in order that the Railroad company may be better able to handle the extraordinary travel during the Epworth League rush.

Last Saturday Detective Fitzpatrick caught a tramp going through the railroad camp at Holborn and arrested him. He was taken before Justice Conner of Wells and given fifty days in the county jail.—Elko Independent.

The Carson School Trustees have selected the following teachers for the ensuing term: Misses Swift, Slingerland, Herrick, McClaskey, Bryant and Foley. Prof. R. H. Mitchell, formerly principal of the Redding, Cal., school, was unanimously elected vice-principal at a salary of $120 per month.

While shooting at the Recreation Club range yesterday afternoon, School Trustee Ferdinand Beck had a narrow escape. He was discharging his rifle when the shell exploded, blowing off the stock and leaving the barrel in the rifleman's hand. That he was not killed, or at least seriously injured, was nothing short of a miracle.—Virginia Report.

Geo. W. Baker, the well known attorney formerly of this State, has received word from Alaska, where he is largely interested, that he will soon be a millionaire.

Elkin Cohn and a party of capitalists from Plumas county, Cal., were they were inspecting the Cohn ranches in Douglas county last week with a view of establishing a cheese factory here.

The last issue of the Lovelock Tribune shows commendable enterprise by publishing a four-column, well written outline of the wonderful resources of that country. It is a splendid advertisement for Humboldt county.

The commissioners of Humboldt county warn all parties in an advertisement not to dump any rubbish or waste material whatever within the confines of any town in Humboldt county saving that the law will be fully enforced. It is to be hoped that the commissioners of Washoe county will take the same action.

John R. Daniel, better known to residents of the Comstock as "Kentuck" died at Cicer's Hotel in Carson on Sunday morning about 2 o'clock.

Lovelock will organize a militia company this week.

The people in the southern part of Lincoln county are certainly bewildered in that land the frisky fly dwellers not.

Carpenters are getting $5 a day at the Tonopah mining camp.

Born—in Wadsworth, Nevada, July 1, 1901, to the wife of J. L. Browning, a daughter.

Two of the prominent residents of Deeth were fined $50 each last week for violating the game laws.

A track walker was struck by a train near Naches Monday and seriously injured.

Reports from all portions of Nevada are that the hay crop will be short this year.

A rancher in the Lovelock Valley uses a gasoline engine to sharpen sickles for his moving machines.

Tonopah is out of ore sacks, lumber, powder, coal and other things too numerous to mention.

Eighteen valuable horses were burned to death in a disastrous fire which yesterday afternoon visited the Clear Creek ranch, situated in Grass Valley, about fifteen miles south of Winnemucca.

CARPENTERS IN DEMAND.

There is a great demand for mechanics of all kinds in this State at present. Everybody connected with the building trades is busy at good wages. Yesterday R. F. Hoy, the Winnemucca contractor, was in town looking for half a dozen more carpenters to complete the many contracts he has on hand at present. Mr. Hoy built twenty-two residences last season.

ABOUT MINE AND MINER

Notes Gathered From Exchanges About This Industry.

MINING. The mill owned by the Johnny Company at Stateline is being overhauled for a steady run. Upward of $150,000 worth of ore is now in sight.—Salt Lake Tribune.

The test run of 100 tons of high grade Consolidated California and Virginia ore at the Kinkaid mill is completed and the concentrates and the sulphurets sacked ready for shipment to Selby's. If this run is satisfactory it is probable that the Kinkaid mill will run steadily on the surplus of the Con. Cal. & Va. ore produced above the 500 tons-per month limit provided for in the contract with the Selby Company from the C. & C. waste dumps.—Virginia Chronicle.

Ore shipments from Eureka last week were eighty-six tons and from White Pine county eighty-four tons.

In the Diamond mine, Eureka county, a cave was broken into which gives every promise of developing a large body of ore.

It begins to look as if Lovelock was to have a pay silver mine right in sight of the town. A car of 375 rocks was sent down to Selby's in San Francisco last Wednesday. This marked the first shipment from the Tiger mine.—Lovelock Tribune.

The property of the New Pass Mining Company, located in Lander county, Nevada, has passed into the hands of Willard F. Snyder, the originator of the syndicate which bears his name and by which so many big deals have been successfully exploited during the past few years. Under the option by which Mr. Snyder takes charge of the proposition, the syndicate undertakes to pay for the property no less than $250,000.—Salt Lake Tribune.

The management of the Ely Company's mine and mill at Ely, Nevada, came forward with a consignment of gold dust from the cyanide plant yesterday from which Treasurer Lynn expects to receive a check for over $9000. The consignment consists of but 120 pounds, but according to camp assays the product is very rich. The crushers are now handling about thirty-five tons daily and will be screwed up to the maximum in a short time.—Salt Lake Tribune.

We understand that a sale of the quartz mine of C. G. Judd at Columbia has been made to a Colorado company, the consideration being $2500.

The matte shipment from the Blue-stone mine last month amounted to $12,300—a twenty day's run.

The coal mine is improving with every foot sunk. At a depth of 165 feet it looks grand, the coal being of excellent quality. The share holders are congratulating themselves on the prospects of wealth in the near future.—Independent.

Messrs. Linnell, Johnson and Bowen will next week begin the crushing of 100 tons of ore extracted by them from the Grand Price dumps. The ore will be run through the Independence mill.—Times Review.
